What Others Have Said

We used Vroman Graves to completely rebrand our company. Our experience in Branding was limited so we looked to the experts. Branding is an extremely complex and involved process. Vroman Graves designed and executed phased process that thrust our company to the industry forefront. The depth of his growth plan allowed our company to maintain the leadership position it still enjoys today. Dean Graves is the best. When assessing the effect Vroman Graves had on our company, we ran out of stars.

– Dave Reardon, VP of Sales and Marketing

We have worked with Vroman Graves for almost 15 years. Dean and his team have been a vital part of our growth over the years. Projects that he has accomplished, and are still doing, are web site development and creation, flyers, social media, PowerPoint presentations, email campaigns, mailing campaigns and many more. In addition, to the knowledge of marketing they have also set us up with various companies to help us in other areas of business. Lastly, I would like to say that they are always up on latest technology and processes to keep us current and relevant. Thank you, Dean and Melanie, for all you do...

– Robert Vande Weghe, President, Versatile Packagers

Dean is a brilliant creative mind who gets to the essence of marketing objectives with thoughtful, focused, and targeted graphic messaging. A big asset to any marketing communications project or campaign.

– Terry Greenhalgh, Disney Vacation Club / The Walt Disney Company

Meadow Burke's most valuable vendor and asset over the last 25 plus years has been Dean Graves. Dean has been a major factor in our marketing efforts of brand development, company image and growth. His talent, capabilities and judgement have been invaluable to our management team and product centric culture. Dean will study, listen and work to understand your industry and company in depth as if he is an employee. I highly recommend his company, Vroman Graves.

– Walter Berner, President (retired), Meadow Burke

Dean has been my go-to design, branding and marketing pro for many years. We have partnered successfully on many significant projects that resulted in client success. His creativity and design is always bottom line focused on the client's strategic goals. His multi-industry experience is priceless and he is easy to work with. If you've got a project, call Dean.

– Jim Fortson, Marketing and Business Development Consultant

As a printer, I have worked with Dean for over seven years. He has always been easy to work with and consistently produces what I would consider award winning projects when his clients require them. In the printing industry it is not only important that a designer can please a client with great design, it is necessary that the designer understand the printing process and can produce a printable job. Dean has always delivered on both counts.
